JOB VACANCY

Violin Maker

July 2018

We have an exciting job opportunity for a full time violin maker here at our workshop in North Yorkshire, to start December 2018 / January 2019

We are looking for an ambitious candidate wishing to further their career in this exciting and very specialised field. You must be capable, enjoy working as part of a team, but also have the confidence and maturity to work independently. You will be responsible for making as well as varnishing work and other associated workshop duties. The range of work here at the violin making workshop is both exciting and challenging.

Roger Hansell Violins is well known for outstanding copies of great old masters commissioned by professional musicians and for fine fittings, which are used by leading violin houses around the world.

Should an applicant have a qualified partner wishing to move with them, there may also be a vacancy for fittings and instrument varnishing on a part time basis. In the past we have sometimes employed couples and this has worked well for everyone. In this case please apply together stating which position you are applying for.

In the first instance please email or post good quality, revealing photographs of your best work together with a CV to the above address. Closing date for applications 31st August 2018. All applicants will be answered and the best will be chosen for interview during September 2018.
